New Organization of Fire Company Explained

Do we of Narberth fully appreciate the excellent service we are getting from the Narberth Fire Company? There was a fine illustration of this service last Sunday when the Company answered an alarm from the home of Mr. Horace M. Schell, 208 Sabine Avenue. The alarm was received at 12.15 P. M., and four minutes later the company, in command of Deputy Chief Edwin H. Wipf, together with Assistant Shiefs Miller and Young, was at Mr. Schell's home. This is a record of which any paid city company might well be proud.

The fire, which was in the cellar, was extinguished with chemicals, so that there was no damage done by water. Mr. Schell and his family had attempted to fight the blaze, but finding that it was getting ahead of them, called the Company. Thanks to the promptness, the loss was kept below $100.

Now that the Narberth Fire Company has become a unit in the Narberth Fire Depratment, through the recent enactment of a Borough Ordinance, it is important that Narberth citizens realize fully just what this action means. The insurance underwriters required Narberth Borough to have a Fire Department, either paid or volunteer, and so advised the Borough authorities. Naturally, our Borough Council desired to take advantage of the services of the super-fine company already organized and accordingly asked the Narberth Fire Company to become the parent company of the Fire Department. For many years to come, of course, this one company will be sufficient to answer our needs.

It should likewise be made clear that by thus becoming a unit in the Narberth Fire Department, the Narberth Fire Company does not in any way lose its identity as an organization. It is still a volunteer company, electing its own members and officers, and running its affairs under its own by-laws and rules. It is also dependent on its own efforts to hold and improve its house and to secure new apparatus when and as necessary. It elects its own Chief, who appoints his deputies and assigns his men as heretofore. The only change in the former method of control is that under the new ordinance the Borough Council must ratify the appointment of the Chief and deputies, and has the power of an appelate court where the decisions of the chief are objected to by the members of the Company in questions of suspensions or dismissal from the company. The Chief has drawn up a set of rules and regulations

JOHN CURTIS, JR.

John Curtis, Jr., composer and orchestra conductor, died last Saturday afternoon at the home of his father, 406 South Narberth avenue. He was twenty-nine.

He became ill in New England in the summer of 1921, when he contracted a bad cold. This developed into laryngitis, but he refused to give up his numerous engagements and rest. The result was that on January 13, 1922, he collapsed while conducting a ballet rehearsal in this city. He was taken to his home, 1724 Green St., and later removed to Narberth.

He began the study of music when thirteen and at seventeen was regarded an accomplished pianist.

He was one of the organizers of the Behrens Opera Club, joining as an accompanist, and organized the Philadelphia Boys' Orchestra. Until his illness prevented he had planned to go to Italy to continue his studies.

Throughout his long illness Mr. Curtis maintained the greatest cheerfulness and courage, feeling always that he would soon be able to resume his music work. He followed with interest the articles in "Our Town" and the Philadelphia papers of performances of his works. He had a piano installed in his bedroom on which he played when his strength permitted.

Mr. Curtis always expressed the keenest interest in Narberth musical affairs, and held hopes of being able to join in these activities.

Our prettiest lassies there you'll find,
So come and play awhile.
And if you will bring your pocketbooks
You'll sure receive some smiles
At the May Fete.

SUCCESSFUL PLAY

That army of Narberthites, whose greatest desire in life is to see how their favorite stage stars behave on foreign fields had that desire gratified when they journeyed to the Palace Theatre in Ardmore last Tuesday evening to see "The Yellow Jacket," presented under the direction of the dramatic class of the Women's Community Club.

This play was presented to the Club some time ago by the same cast, and met with such enthusiastic approval that it warranted a repetition. It should be recorded at the very start that the performance was one that the theatre-goers of this town should well be proud of. In every department it was a brilliant success. The play dealt with life in China years ago, and of the difficulties experienced by the polygamists at that time. Of the cast itself more must be said. For a first performance behind footlights, it was as smooth and pleasing an ensemble as could be desired. In fact no one would guess that the players had not just returned from a year's engagement on Broadway.

A Chinese dance was presented at the beginning of the performance by Marjorie Carter, and was received with enthusiastic applause. Following the presentation of the feature, a very pleasing dance was given by the Misses Regina Chappatte and Florence Haist. The youngsters received a more than hearty reception, and the applause of the audience testified their approval. The concluding number on the programme was a one-act playette, "The Trysting Place," by Booth Tarkington, presented by the National Alumni Players. This attraction furnished much entertainment and many laughs from beginning to end. The music furnished by George Gilpin and his "Jazz Babies," outdid anything "Charlie Kerr," ever dreamed of.

Under the Auspices of the Main Line Council

The Girl Scouts, who now have eleven troops along the Main Line, cordially invite all of those who are interested to attend a Rally Which will be held at the Wayne Public Schools at Wayne, on Saturday afternoon, May 12th, at 2.15.

The School Grounds give ample opportunity for the events of the afternoon if the weather is good. If it should rain the program will be given indoors.

Scouts from the various troops will compete in:

Setting up Tents,
Water Boiling and Darning,
Drilling,
Knot tying games and Bandaging.

A first, second and third prize will be awarded the first being a silk American Flag, the second a Bugle, and the third a First-Aid Outfit.

Interesting as the events of the afternoon are the real work of the Scout leaders and of the Council is the splendid training the girls are receiving, not only in the well doing of some of the household duties, but through the Scout Activities fitting them for the Civic Work of the Community, which they will naturally take up later on. No greater evidence of the success of the Girl Scouts in this locality could be shown than the enthusiasm of the girls themselves. Come and see for yourselves and help, by your presence, to encourage them in the work, not only of today, but of tomorrow.

Among the competing troops will be the following:

Radnor—Miss Maria Hepburn,
Wayne—Miss Nancy Hallowell,
Rosemont—Mrs. Herbert Church.
Haverford—Miss Ellen Harrison,
Narberth—Miss Ruth Haws,
Bryn Mawr and Gladwyn—Miss Viola McGowen,
Llanerch—Mrs. Pollon,
Brookline—Mrs. Juliet Jefferies,
Garrett Hill—Miss Ellen Harrison.

The Main Line Council who stand back of the troop leaders are Mrs. Charles C. Harrison, Jr., Chairman; Mrs. Charles E. Coxe, Mrs. Walter C. Janney, Vice Chairmen; Mrs. John Hampton Barnes, Mrs. Livingstone Piddle, Mrs. J. Franklin McFudden, Mrs. George Snowden, Mrs. S. Lawrence Bodine, Miss Esther B. Hare, Miss Jane Gordon Coxe, Miss Alice G. Howland, Mrs. Carroll B. Nichols, Mrs. T. Duane Williams, Miss Liela Wright, Miss Maria Hepburn, and Miss Viola McGowen.

Send in Fireside Items.

The FIRESIDE

Mr. and Mrs. S. Landsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Corbett, of Washington, D. C., were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Vallette, of Chestnut Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Clark, with their son Ellsworth, and Mrs. Clark's sister, Mrs. S. A. Ritter, are occupying their new home on Chestnut Avenue.

Mrs. Ward Weller of Watervliet, N. Y., is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cohic, of Essex Ave. Mrs. Weller will be remembered as Miss J. Estelle Cohic.

Mr. Carson Knight, of Dudley Ave., is at home on furlough from his school ship.

Mrs. William Livingston, of Chestnut Ave., is in the Orange Memorial Hospital, Orange, N. J., recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

The following equipment will be for sale at the Y. M. C. A. next Friday and Saturday, possession after Saturday evening: Lawn Swings, $10.00; small see-saw, $6.50; large see-saw, $8; sand boxes, $11.00.

Miss Peg Burrell, of Merion Ave., is visiting friends in Pittsburgh, where she has gone to attend her Class Reunion and Dance.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rose, of Dudley Ave., are entertaining a few friends at cards and dancing on May 12th.

Mrs. C. R. Rieger, of Montgomery Ave., has returned from St. Louis, where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Merritt Taylor.

Philip A. Livingston is spending the week-end in South Orange, New Jersey.

Miss Dorothy Taylor, of Merchantville, was the guest last week of Miss Edith Cox, of Merion Ave.

A card party for the benefit of the Community Club Building Fund was given at the residence of Mrs. Geo. N. Gill, of Dudley Ave., on Wednesday afternoon. The hostesses were Mrs. N. C. Rowley, Mrs. Sawyer, Mrs. McKillips, Mrs. Farnsworth, Mrs. Speck and Mrs. Gill.

Miss Jeannette E. Gillis is spending the week-end in Chester Heights, Pa., at the home of Miss Betty Moore.

Mrs. J. S. Harris, of Merion Ave., is spending the week-end in East Orange, N. J.

A LECTURE ON WILD FLOWERS

The last meeting of the Home and School Association held at the School Auditorium the last Thursday evening in April, was one of the best of the year.

Dr. D. Walter Steckbeck, Assistant Professor of Botany in the University of Pennsylvania, gave a stereopticon lecture showing in color the wild flowers of Pennsylvania. The slides he had secured from the State Botanical Department. These flowers were intimately described by Dr. Steckbeck as the pictures passed along, and he seemed to infect his hearers with something of his own passionate nature.

A second feature of unusual interest was the address of Superintendent Downs, of the Lower Merion Public Schools, who was introduced by Mr. Arthur W. Burns, and who discussed many of the problems the public school had to deal with, particularly as related to our own vicinity. He welcomed cordially the three upper grades of the Narberth High School, which are to be consolidated with the Lower Merion High School this fall.

There will be one more meeting of the Association, the fourth Thursday evening in May, when officers for the ensuing year are to be elected. Full particulars of this meeting will be announced in the next issue of "Our Town."

Luncheon To Close Successful Season

Women's Community Club Celebrates Next Tuesday

There will be plenty of fun at the Y. M. C. A. next Tuesday. It will be the last meeting of the Community Club this season, and will be a strictly Club affair.

A luncheon will be served at 12.30, and you know what to expect from Mrs. Douglass and her aids, then the yearly reports given by officers and chairmen. The rest of the afternoon will be an entertainment by the Club members themselves.

For several years this has been the usual way of ending the Club season, and has always provided pleasure and proved to be a good time for members to get acquainted.

The names of the entertainers have always been kept secret, but as no one yet has been disappointed, this year's affair promises to be up to the mark.

So send your fifty cents to Mrs. E. H. Cockrill, 203 Essex Ave., and then be there on time.

NARBERTH CHURCH WILL GIVE RADIO CONCERT

Afternoon Service of Station WFI by Baptist Church

The afternoon radio service of Station WFI, Strawbridge and Clothier, on Sunday, May 13th, will be given by the Baptist Church of the Evangel.

The sermon will be delivered by Rev. Elim A. E. Palmquist, D. D., Secretary of the Federation of Churches of Philadelphia. Dr. Palmquist will shortly move to Narberth upon the completion of the home he has been building in Narbrook Park. Dr. Palmquist and his family are already affiliated with the Baptist Church here, and has won a warm spot for himself in the hearts of a considerable number of friends. Those who have heard him vouch for the statement that he is a very able speaker, with a compelling message.

The music will be of equal interest to Narberth folks. A program is not available, but solos will be sung by Mrs. L. H. Trotter, and Mrs. Peter Stam, Jr., members of the Evangel Quartette, accompanied by Mrs. W. F. Kempf, Director and Organist, and assisted by Mr. Charles Kremer, Jr., with the violin.

This radio service by Narberth friends and neighbors will surely be a treat for all the local radio enthusiasts.

A BIG PETITION

Over 600 Narberth residents signed a petition recently presented to Borough Council, asking that body to refuse a building permit for the erection of a store building at the corner of Narberth and Sabine avenues.

A great deal of sentiment was aroused throughout the town, particularly in that section, against the opening of a store in a residential section of the Borough. It was felt that if the bars are let down, other stores would quickly follow, and the present high standard of the Borough as a strictly residential town would be lost.

The petition asked Council to refuse the permit on the ground that its granting would be against the expressed wishes of the great majority of the residents of the Borough.

Recently Chief Burgess Carl B. Metzger, Borough Solicitor Fletcher W. Stites and Mr. Robert J. Nash, President of the Narberth Civic Association, called on Mr. Samuel Robinson, President of the American Stores Company, who wish to erect the building, and presented this petition.

It is felt that in the face of the obvious sentiment in Narberth against such a store that the plans will be abandoned and that Narberth's commercial district will remain within its present bounds.

DONATION DANCE

The members of the Narberth Fire Company will have a Donation Dance at Elm Hall on Wednesday evening, May 23.

Mr. Raymond Weise, who has the affair in charge, promises a bang-up time to those attending, and will be glad to give information concerning the dance to those interested.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Narberth Tennis Association entertained ten tables of bridge at the home of Mrs. J. W. Daryille, of Merion Ave., on Friday afternoon.

May Fete Will Be Big Narberth Event Next Week

All Community Will Be Entertained at Y. M. C. A.

Plans of Narberth folks for the next week end will not be complete unless they include the May Fete, the First Fun Frolic Festival at the Y. M. C. A., next Friday and Saturday.

This is a family affair for young and old. There are attractions for all.

For the kiddies the May Fete has rented the gymnasium and installed a wonderful playground. Then the May Fete has provided a staff of competent ladies to take care of the youngsters, tell them stories, look after them and keep them all happy, while the older folks take in the show in the "big tent."

The playground will be open on both Friday and Saturday at 2.30. It has been equipped with brand new swings, see-saws, sand boxes and all sorts of toys where the kiddies can play to their heart's content. When they get tired, they can listen to the story telling. Milk and rolls will be for sale when they are hungry.

To prevent the Play Ground being over run with irrepressibles," and to insure the minimum measure of necessary discipline, the Committee will charge an admission of ten cents to the Play Ground otherwise there will be no admission charge for the May Fete.

For the grown up folks there are all sorts of features. There is the Cafeteria Supper, a la delicatessen, under the personal direction of Mr. Frederick Harmann, Narberth's premier amateur Chef, which will be served on both evenings after 5.30 (daylight time, of course.)

Of lemonade, ice cream, and cake, there will be no end.

Then there are the May Fete Shops. They will open at 5.30 Friday, and at 2.30 Saturday, and remain open until all the wonderful bargain stocks are depleted. They are not overstocked, by any means, and it is suggested that those looking for exceptional opportunities come early. A separate May Fete Shop specializes in the following lines: Groceries, Novelties, Useful Articles, Home-made Cakes, Home-made Candy, Flowers. With a very few exceptions none of the articles in the shops are more than one dollar, notwithstanding that the values are truly remarkable.

And last, but not least, the Fun and Frolic Features of the First Festival! Irresistible strains of jazz will liven up everything from the moment you enter, and will lead you from the Cafeteria Supper a la delicatessen, to the shops, and then to the mystic shrine—at last one of the big secrets is out—to the shrine of the renowned clairvoyant and palmist de luxe, Madame Xantrovia La Fortuna to whom the secrets of the past and the exigencies of the future are as an open book, pages of which the enchanting secress may be persuaded to expose—for a consideration!

Nor is that all. Narberth is filled with so many pretty girls, and so many popular men that the May Fete proposes to do something toward properly emphasizing the pulchritude and popularity, respectively of our young matrons, brides, debs, and sub-debs, on the one hand, and the entire male contingent on the other. To that end there will be a beauty contest open to all the resident members of the fair sex. No entrance requirements or red tape. Everyone will be permitted to cast as many votes as they wish for their particular choice. The popularity contest for men will be on the same basis. Tax collectors, borough officials, lawyers, preachers, merchants, everybody is eligible, including married men. On account of the large number of votes which will be cast, and the expense incident to printing them, there will be a nominal charge of ten cents for a ballot. Strips of 10 for one dollar; no charge for pencils. The winners of each contest will be presented with valuable prizes. The contests will be managed by Mrs. Horace Smedley, and promises to be long remembered in Narberth.

Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Miller, of Merion Ave., have left for a short trip to Norfolk, Va.

THINK BEFORE YOU LIGHT

The Narberth Fire Company has responded to an unusually large number of alarms during the past two months, the great majority of the fires being in the fields and woods. Nearly all of these calls have been avoidable. In some cases the grass is set afire to clear the ground, in others it is evidently set by boys in quest of excitement. The flames spread beyond control and the company is called. The blaze is usually extinguished in a few minutes and the persons who have caused the fire think, perhaps, that the cost is nominal.

Consider, fellow-citizen, when you start a grass fire, that if it gets away from you it will cost from twenty-five to fifty dollars to put it out; the wear and tear on apparatus, the cost of gasoline, oil and chemicals, the cost of washing the hose and apparatus, being only part of the expense involved. It may mean a ruined suit of clothes for a fireman who has had no opportunity to change. If it occurs during working hours it means that several active firemen employed by the local garage men, plumbers, painters, carpenters and roofers respond to the alarms without deduction for loss of time, thereby entailing a considerable loss to their employers.

The average citizen, seeing the fire company whiz by thinks that it is just a happy incident in a fireman's life. The men do respond willingly and enthusiastically, but some years ago one of our respected fellow-townsmen, then an active fireman, was severely mangled and came within a cat's whisker of losing his life by being thrown from the truck on the way to an early morning brush fire, so please paste this on your match-box: "Think Before You Light."

WHY NOT HANG, DRAW AND QUARTER HIM?

To the Editor of "Our Town":

The most ridiculous article that I ever read in any paper published was published in last week's edition of "Our Town." The article in the column of the Tower of Babble where it referred to Pests and classing children as same. This party who wrote same evidently has not brains enough to know that he was a child him or herself some time ago. This world would be a whole lot better off without any people of the calibre that would write such an article and feel that he or she should be knocked into a tin pan full of white lead and air slated lime and burned. Nothing could be too cruel for this party. Any brainless party who would write such an article is sure not worthy of any kind of an estate.

THE TOWER OF BABBLE

By Collum Righter

THE PRINTS OF WALES AGAIN

"Our" dear Call'em Righter:—

I noted in August 21st issue of "Our Town" you have taken exception to my using your personal (?) thunder in quoting "Busier than a one armed paper-hanger, etc.," in connection with the activities of Bill "Welcome" Evans, Pres. of our Club.

I cannot see whereby I have encroached upon your preserves whatever. The use of that quotation I know is private—about as private as the Brooklyn Bridge—or as Irvin Cobb would say "as a gold fish." I presume soon you will be making the statement that Jim McKell's tenor is the result of your personal training. Where do you get that stuff "private?"

Why Adam used that term to Eve when he put on his first red flannel shirt. If it originated with you, why Methusaleh when he died was a babe in arms compared to the age of one Collum Righter I have in mind.

That may be smart Lad! but tha'll ha to read mooar o' t' clock almanac to have summat 'appen.

Yours truly,
'Appy 'Arry.

It is no idle exaggeration saying we tore our hair in rage upon reading the above communication which arrived last week too late for classification. The first thought surging through our mind was one of amazement at the lack of justification for our being so literally rent to shreds by the facile pen of the Tennis Publicity Agent, who with all those marks displayed by an Avalon flounder, gobbled up dipsy, bait, hook, leader and seventeen inches of line. When we did our cast, baited with a luscious chunk of "one armed paper-hanger" we suavely predicted "summat 'll 'appen" and by George! didn't it? We shall leave it to our devoted readers to decide that.

While 'Appy 'Arry, the Cockney nom-de-plume at the close of the missive, conveys nothing to our disordered mental division, still the initials JAD that emblazoned the envelopes upper left hand corner point to one of two things, either an efficient brand of Salts or that exquisite, that matchless Jacques Ambidextrous Darville who has blossomed quite in a manner resembling an O'Cedar of Lebanon since moving into the aristocratic environs of the Souse Side.

Was it not Coriolanus who remarked to Falstaff in Love's Labor Lost, "Faith, he draweth the thread of his verbosity finer than the staple of his argument?" We are not quite clear. In fact we are not very well up on the lines of Sheridan's plays. Mrs. Forest Wood, no doubt, will gladly confirm or refute the quotation's given origin and correctness on demand. But anyway it seems to be the shoe that fits Jamie's foot to perfection.

* * *

His reference to the issue of August 21st stirs conjecture. We have ever known of Jim's rapidity but for him to be four months ahead of himself this way indicates the need of veterinary attention or enforced abstinence from gasoline for an extended period until things quiet down somewhat. His criticism of our Yorkshire leads us to decide he is a bit of a cheese and his irreverent mention of Adam would imply that along with us and some others, he is a member of the famous Yorkshire "Henpecked Club" which held its annual meeting not so many weeks ago in an isolated hamlet, miles to the west of Halifax. Adam is always boasted to be the charter member of the said organization.

Our canny Welsh rabbit has cleared up several things nevertheless, by his letter. He travels extensively as may be seen in the citing of Brooklyn Bridge. And he is well posted on contemporaneous theological writers which is clearly to be deduced from his quoting Irving Cobb. He credits us though with a much too liberal circulation of our persoal training. In the matter of Signor McKell's tenor we do not know what he is talking about. To the best of our limited knowledge and belief we never saw the last named gentleman, let alone having heard the Caruso warbling of his evidently superb notes. To be frank, the only tenor ability we recognize and acknowledge at all is that possessed by M'sieu Long of The American Legion and The Post Office Department.

It has been some time since this Column began melodiously tintillating through the Borough, but we fearlessly state we have never had the temerity to include among its lambent paragraphs any mention of the privacy of a "red flannel shirt." The peculiar intimacy of such directly personal body-guard has always been deemed a subject fit for inclusion among the slithery pages of some popular modern writer's efforts perhaps—but not here. The morals of Narberth must and shall be upheld and preserved, regardless of the high cost of preservatives. We hereby confirm our appointment as a Committee of One to corner Herr Darville at once, to administer sixty-five stout thumps upon the eastern central section of his anatomy when he is facing directly toward the vicinity of Paoli, and then to make him swallow the "red flannel shirt"—buttons and everything.

In the grand total, we believe Citizen D'Arville's sense of propriety did on this occasion spill over the sides of his tank of judgment and slop things up considerably. However, being originally from the land which bred his ancestors, we hold no grudge agin him but instead, grasp his hand firmly and thank him for furnishing us wih a germ of inspiration in what would have been otherwise an eventless week.

BIG AFFAIR COMING

The time is drawing near for the big Spring Event to be given by the Junior Community Club, an afternoon card party. For those who have not read former notices of this, we will repeat that it is to be given at the home of Mrs. Wm. D. Smedley, 227 Narberth Avenue, on Saturday afternoon, May 26th, at two o'clock. Many beautiful and useful prizes, of which there will be one for each table, are being collected, and we know that every card player in Narberth will want to compete in the winning of them. Delicious refreshments, too, will be served, so that all together it promises to be an afternoon filled with pleasure for all who attend. Do plan to come, and get your tickets, at the very low price of seventy-five cents each, from any of the Juniors. There will be tables enough for everyone—no matter how great the crowd—and the more, the merrier. If you do not play bridge, there will be many five hundred players to bear you company, and if you've outgrown Five Hundred, the Bridge-sharks will greet you. Just be there yourself, and the Juniors will supply all the rest—tables cards, partners (if you haven't any, and best of all, Prizes, and Refreshments. Now we seek you—can you miss it?

BIG SHOW SOON

More than 1,0000 sub-debs, debs, leaders in the younger social circles and matrons are busy these days completing plans for the Wynnewood Pony and Dog Show to be staged on the Clothier and Ashton estates, May 16.

Every day at the home of Mrs. William J. Clothier, Wynnewood, scores of young women are painting scenery, lugging tables, building booths or, under the direction of Miss Phyllis Walsh "making up" in true theatrical style and rehearsing numbers for the gigantic cabaret show. Miss Peggy Thayer says the Raggety Andy Chorus, one of the leading numbers, will eclipse anything seen in the dancing line in this city. She is assisted by Miss Gertrude Graham, Miss Carol Smith, Miss Jane Hepburn, Miss Jean DeRusse and Miss Walsh.

The Executive Committee announces that all plans are completed for the show the last great out-door event of the season. The pony show, under Mrs. Victor C. Mather, will be the largest ever staged in this city, while Mrs. E. Florens Rivinus, chairman of the dog committee, says virtually all the pedigreed canines in the Eastern part of the country, have been entered. One hundred and twenty-seven special prizes have been added for the entrants.

The side features of the annual event are much larger than last year. A huge midway is being constructed where side-shows of every kind and description will be found. Mrs. Edwin N. Benson, Jr., in charge of the bazaar, announces that all her exhibits are ready. In addition, there will be a baby show, dancing floors, fortune tellers, live stock sales, 1000 balloonrace, doll show, boy scout exhibition, and a bridge tournament under the direction of Mrs. William M. Elkins.

A "super"-milk without an equal!

Penshurst Inspected Raw Ayrshire Milk not only compares favorably with the best certified milk, but is produced under standards much higher than those required for certified milk or for any grade of inspected milk.

This super milk comes from a herd of 200 registered Ayrshire cattle, the first herd in Pennsylvania to be fully accredited tuberculosis free by the Bureau of Animal Industry of Pennsylvania and the U. S. and now fully accredited for the fourth consecutive year.

Employees of Penshurst Farms are inspected regularly by Dr. E. C. Town, of Narberth, and are required to pass tests more rigid than are required for certified milk.

The cattle at Penshurst Farms are fed on alfalfa grown on the farm and cured by cock and cap methods, assuring an alfalfa rich in vitamins.

Ayrshire Milk is a perfect food as it comes from the cows. It needs no modifying, as its high quality ingredients are perfectly proportioned to the needs of the human body.

Ayrshire Milk of this class is sold in Boston and throughout New England at 35c per quart—here for much less.

If you want to make sure of the quality of your milk ask these questions:

Is it produced from a fully accredited herd?

Is it bottled and sealed on the farm?

The milk control office—Board of Health, Ardmore, Bell Phone, Ardmore 1810, will answer your questions about milk produced or sold in this district.

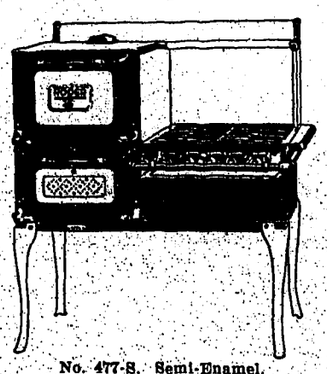
MOVING TIME SUGGESTIONS

This month many of our consumers are moving. To us this means numerous calls to shut off the gas in the property being vacated and turn it on at the new address. We request that you give us notice of moving as long in advance as possible, with the old and new address plainly stated, and make sure that someone is on the premises when our representative arrives. With your co-operation, our service will meet the unusual moving time test.



No. 477-S. Semi-Enamel. $7.50 down, $6.00 per month. Delivered and connected. Cash price, $69.83.

Supreme Quality in Ranges

We are proud of the quality in the gas ranges which we now have on display. There's a big difference between the material and workmanship in these ranges and the inferior makes. American Gas Association Specifications are a big protection for our customers — they insure standard ranges, perfect operation and economy in the use of gas.

We want to make it easy for you to own a brand new gas range, with all the late features for cleanliness, convenience and economy. Just make your selection, and we shall be glad to deliver and connect the range and give you plenty of time to pay for it.

FIFTEEN NEW BUILDINGS WILL BE ADDED TO THE BELL SYSTEM IN PENNSYLVANIA THIS YEAR

Nearly four millions of dollars will be spent on building construction alone.

Millions of dollars' worth of equipment will be placed in them—switchboards, cables, terminal room apparatus, and other central office mechanisms.

We spent three millions for land and buildings last year, but the growing needs for telephone service in Pennsylvania make necessary a continuation of this tremendous construction program.

LIBRARY NEWS

Arrangements Being Made for Summer Vacations

The Library, like any other well-established organization, is beginning to feel the approach of summer. Members of the library staff are sending in requests for the customary professional release from regular occupation, and the librarian-in-charge is kept busy arranging a schedule to accommodate the vacationers. Few people who come into the Library each week and listen to the enthusiastic comments on the work from the librarians realize that in addition to the pleasure of distributing the books to the patrons of the Library, there is also a certain amount of routine frequently unrecognized.

To be willing to be at her desk one day of every week without fail is asking much of a volunteer worker; but that is what the greater part of the Library staff aims to do, and in a large measure accomplishes.

The summer vacation period, however, is at hand. Mrs. Herman Weigand, who has been most faithful in the children's department for over a year, is leaving for several months in Germany. Mrs. Clarence Faries, of the Tuesday afternoon force, has a leave of absence till September. Mrs. E. C. Town, who has been south for some weeks, has returned, and will be at her desk next Tuesday.

Since most of the changes at present affect the Tuesday afternoon force, it gives an opportunity to state that Mrs. W. Robert Cameron is in charge of the children's department on that afternoon, with Miss Emma Mueller as assistant. Both of these young women have done much to increase the efficiency of the Tuesday afternoon service.

Mrs. Ramey, Mrs. Town and Mrs. Faries compose the Tuesday afternoon force in the adult department, and these three, even on crowded afternoons, give excellent attention to the distribution of books.

Those patrons who missed Mrs. Muschamp from her desk last Friday were glad to welcome her yesterday. Mrs. Horace Moore, who serves as Mrs. Muschamp's assistant, as well as assistant in the catalog department, occupied first desk in Mrs. Muschamp's absence.

CONCERNING ASHES

Numerous inquiries have come to "Our Town," asking the time of ash collection.

As printed in these columns several weeks ago, the summer schedule is now in effect. Street Commissioner George B. Suplee announces that collections are now being made in the last week of each month, on the days of the week followed during the winter moths.

Collection for May, therefore, will begin on the 28th, and every home will be visited as usual. The remainder of the month during the summer is utilized for street work, and the men and equipment are diverted from ash collection to highway repairs.

Remember—the last week in the month until fall.

EVENING CHORAL SERVICE

The final evening choral service this season will be rendered by the male choir of All Saints Church, Wynnewood and Montgomery Avenues, on Sunday at 4.00 P. M. The program will be:

Manigficat and Nunc Dimittis, by Wood in F,

King all Glorious, Barnby, with soprano solo by Master Robert Ross,

Rejoice in the Lord, Calkin,

Unfold Ye Portals, Gounod.

This is the last evening choral to be sung this season by the male choir. It is hoped that the people of Narberth will avail themselves of this opportunity to hear the work that the men and boys are doing.

Fire Company

for the active members of the fire company. These were discussed and approved unanimously by the members themselves at the last monthly meeting of the Fire Company in April, and will be submitted to Borough Council for approval at the May meeting next Monday night.

It is understood that the Narberth Fire Company has under consideration certain plans for improvement of their already excellent service and that these plans when disclosed will justify the high opinion in which the citizens hold the Company.

Narberth should be proud of the fact that we are recognized in Philadelphia and along the Main Line as the best organized and most efficient company in suburban Philadelphia. By the way, Mr. or Mrs. or Miss Citizen, ARE YOU A MEMBER of the Narberth Fire Company? If not, don't you think you had better apply for membership in the one civic organization which more than any other agency contributes to the safe protection of your person and your property? It costs you three dollars a year to belong, and give actual demonstration of your appreciation of this protection. Let the Fire Company hear from you. They're a modest bunch of fellows, and seldom solicit members, but when that fire does come to your property, they're on the job quick and ready. Ask Mr. Schell. He knows.
